(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—President Roosevelt today appointed Felix Frankfurter, of the Harvard law school, to the United States supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Justice Benjamin N. Cardozo.

The nomination was announced at the White House only a few minutes before it was transmitted to the senate, where prompt and speedy confirmation is expected.

Not Wholly Unexpected
The appointment was not wholly unexpected, although it had been thought for a time that the president would go west to fill the current vacancy, in view of the fact that the far west is not now represented on the court.

PROF. FELIX FRANKFURTER

Mr. Roosevelt turned, however, to his old friend and frequent adviser, the Harvard law professor, who is highly regarded by the new deal. Incidentally, the appointment of Prof. Frankfurter maintains two Jews on the bench, the other being Justice Louis D. Brandeis.

Prof. Frankfurter will be 57 years old next November. He is a native of Austria, born in Vienna on Nov. 15, 1882. He was brought to the United States by his parents when he was 12 years old.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New takes his hat off to Mrs. W. T. Crowl, New Castle, R. D. 4, who has kept a diary, daily, since January 1889. Mrs. Crowl, past 67, was a subscriber to The News when it was a weekly paper and still is. She has all of her records and can tell what she has done each day for the past 50 years. In her books, she has included weather, deaths, births and marriages, as well as her activities for each day.

Some persons take awful chances with the weather. Although it was rather balmy for January yesterday afternoon, Pa New doesn't believe that running around in the out of doors with sleeves rolled up and coatless is any way to perform.

German Papers Renew Attack On President Roosevelt's Utterances

By PIERRE J. HUSS

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—A warning that President Roosevelt's message to congress "could almost be described as provocation to break off diplomatic relations" between the United States and Germany was published today in the National Zeitung.

The Essen National Zeitung, with this blunt assertion, led a renewed German press attack upon the Roosevelt administration, unleashed only a few hours after the American chief executive ended his indictment of dictators.

Aimed At Germany
Indicating its belief that President Roosevelt's remarks were aimed principally at Germany, the National Zeitung commented:

"It proves that the responsible leaders of the United States, in contrast to the German attitude, are not interested in satisfactory cooperation between both peoples."

Amid the press barrage, one authoritative source qualified to express Nazi opinion stated:

"It seems doubtful that President Roosevelt will succeed in leading the common-sense American people into foreign political adventures."

"President Roosevelt demonstrated his aggressive methods in contrast to the peaceful New Year's message delivered by Chancellor Hitler."

"Painful Impression"
It was clear that the sections of the president's message dealing with dictators produced a "painful impression" in official German quarters, where it was remarked:

"The president accused the dictators of aggressiveness to cover up his own aggressiveness as shown by his huge armament program."

Goering's newspaper discussed the question of German-American relations at considerable length, stating:

"There is talk in American circles that German-American relations are becoming worse, and that an official break in diplomatic relations may be expected. It cannot be foreseen, however, whether the United States government actually intends to take such a step."

Earle May Get Diplomatic Post

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—Possibility that Gov. George H. Earle, whose term expires January 17, may be appointed to a diplomatic post was hinted again today following a two-hour conference between the Pennsylvania executive and U. S. ambassador to France William C. Bullitt.

Although Gov. Earle and Ambassador Bullitt refused to comment, political circles speculated that Earle, a former minister to Austria, would be recalled to the diplomatic service when he relinquishes the reins of the state government to Governor-elect Arthur H. James.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Possibilities of a court fight to clarify the unprecedented situation now existing in the Pennsylvania senate loomed today along with possible drastic Republican action in the senate itself once the G. O. P. assumes control on January 17.

The situation was still in such a confused state, however, following the turbulent 13-hour organization battle, that neither Democrats nor Republicans knew for certain what their next course would be. There was apparently no precedent for the unusual situation existing in the senate, with legislative control in the hands of the Republicans and patronage control vested in the Democrats.

Next C. C. C. Quota From County Will Go To Southwest

More than half of Lawrence county's next C. C. C. quota will be stationed in New Mexico and Arizona camps, J. W. Moorehead, Lawrence county director of selection, announced today.

So many applications have been received that the enrollment period has been closed. The county quota of this number, 43 will be sent to New Mexico and Arizona while the remaining 37 will go to various camps in Pennsylvania. The period lasts for six months.

It was also announced that the physical examination will be conducted in the City building, Thursday, January 12, starting at 9 o'clock in the morning.

THREE WOMEN BURN TO DEATH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Three women were burned to death and a man also may have lost his life in a fire that swept a five-story tenement house early today.

One of the bodies believed to be that of Mrs. Anna LeClara was recovered by firemen on the third floor where she resided with her husband. Two other bodies of women were visible, one on the fourth floor and another on the fifth, but firemen were not immediately able to reach them.

The fire broke out in a restaurant on the ground floor of the tenement recently converted into a rooming house at 210 West 103rd street. Between 150 and 250 roomers were driven into the street by the flames.

Different Views Taken On Roosevelt Message

(International News Service)
President Roosevelt's message to congress was hailed in London and Paris today as strengthening and unifying democratic cooperation, and castigated in Berlin and Rome as a domestic political "sales talk."

While in Washington observers foresaw congressional resistance to use of the rearmament program as a New Deal weapon.

Developments—
London—Official circles expressed great satisfaction over the Roosevelt address which was seen as strengthening the hand of Prime Minister

Neville Chamberlain in his dealings with Italian Premier Benito Mussolini. All parties welcomed the message. Its hint of revision of the neutrality laws was stressed approvingly.

Paris—The Quai D'Orsay was "deeply impressed," and pleased particularly by Roosevelt's defense of democracy and religion. America was seen as becoming an "active force" in world affairs.

By ERIC FRIEDHEIM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Warning the nation that curtailment of heavy government spending at this time would endanger American industry and weaken the national defense at a critical period of world unrest, President Roosevelt today placed before congress a new budget calling for expenditures of $8,995,663,200 during the 1940 fiscal year.

Against Basic Taxes
Although he anticipates only $5,669,320,000 in federal revenues, Mr. Roosevelt declared himself as emphatically opposed to imposition of drastic taxes to finance the remaining $3,326,343,200 in expected expenditures.

Containing it would be unwise to attempt to balance the budget in the light of economic conditions at home and political uncertainties abroad, the president asserted, "not throwing money 'out of the window or into the sea.'"

To maintain business recovery, to keep pace in the international armaments race, and to furnish necessary assistance to the farmer and the unemployed, the president proposed the following:

Proposals Made
1—A record peacetime national defense outlay of $1,319,558,000, representing an increase of $309,099,000 over the 1939 fiscal year.

Hotel Directors Name Flaherty

Fill Vacancy Caused By Recent Death Of Thomas
F. Morehead

SOME CHANGES IN HOTEL PLANNED

Patrick J. Flaherty was elected as the new president of the board of directors of the New Castle Hotel company, owners of The Castleton, Wednesday afternoon.

Flaherty, the president and general manager of Johnson Bronze company, who has served for several years as secretary-treasurer of the hotel board, assumes the post left vacant by the death some time ago of Thomas F. Morehead.

Young Flaherty On Board
The directors chose Mr. Flaherty's eldest son, J. Preston Flaherty, as a board member in Mr. Morehead's place. Later, the young director was elected to the secretary-treasurer post made vacant by the election of his father as president.

Extensive alterations in the downstairs room arrangement at The Castleton were approved during the board meeting.

Plan New Private Bar
President Flaherty, announcing the proposed changes, said:

"We plan to install a private bar, separate from the present grill room, in the space where the barber shop is now located. The barber shop will be moved to the grill room."

Unseasonal Is Today's Weather In United States

(International News Service)
Vast sections of the United States today were in the grip of unseasonal weather conditions, with a tornado, violent electrical storms, torrential rains, drizzles, and heavy fogs reported at widely separated points.

In most cases high off-season temperatures were blamed for the disturbances.

Storms Pound Coast
The south and west coast suffered mostly from the tricky weather, which took 12 lives. High winds and rain swept many southern states, but most damage was done in central Louisiana and western Tennessee where a tornado left at least six dead.

Storms pounded the north Pacific coast for the sixth day, and the death toll mounted to six. There was little respite in this district.

Over many of the mid-western states, particularly Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin, a dense fog hung. In Chicago the temperature, which a few days ago was near zero, reached 51 at 7 a. m. today and a drizzling rain fell. Colder weather was predicted for tonight.

Reports 22 Others Injured As Aftermath Of Tornado In West Tennessee

(International News Service)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 5.—Three persons were dead and 22 others suffered from injuries today as the aftermath of a tornado which swept into west Tennessee from Louisiana and spent its force on smaller towns late yesterday.

A school bus was blown from the highway near Luray, and the driver and one child were slightly injured. The dead were Mrs. Cecil Wilson of Bartington, her daughter Mary Ann, 4, and Monroe Willis, 45, of Silberton. They were killed when their homes collapsed.

Cyclonic winds likewise were felt in the Farmington section of Arkansas, but no reports were received of any casualties.

Arthur Mometer

Feels like April, looks like March, winds a-blowin' like early Spring, wouldn't surprise me a little bit to hear a red breasted robin sing. Temperature is a-goin' up, fifty three and due for a rise, can't figure out why this weather is balmy air and some azure skies. Don't be fooled by these spring like smiles, keep your overcoat buttoned tight, days like this are a bit of bluff, winter hasn't begun to fight. Though it looks like April is isn't yet, there's plenty of snow that is yet to come. Winter won't like this it seems to me, and it won't be long till he makes things hum.

Mrs. Thomas Ridley of Winslow avenue was a pleasing hostess Wednesday evening, when members of the C. C. S. club gathered at her home.

The time was enjoyably spent and at a late hour, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Elise. Plans for the next meeting will be announced later.

SIX O'CLOCK CLUB ANNIVERSARY DINNER

In observance of the fourth anniversary of the Six O'Clock Dinner club, Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan entertained the group at a beautifully appointed dinner party on Wednesday evening at a prominent downtown tea room.

A delicious full course menu was served at the chosen hour, and the guests later motored to the home of their hosts on East Washington street, where the balance of the evening was spent playing cards. Those winning the lovely prizes were Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. John Morgan. The latter also won the floral table centerpiece in the drawing which ensued.

During the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Gilmore, who recently returned from a two weeks stay in St. Petersburg, Fla., related some interesting travel experiences.

In conclusion, Mrs. Morgan served a midnight lunch, with Mrs. James E. Everhart assisting.

Their next regular meeting will take place on Wednesday, February 1, with Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Doyle, East Morton street.

SECTION ONE HAS ELECTION MEETING

Members of Section One of the First Christian church, assembled at the home of Mrs. Frank Wadlinger on Lorain avenue Wednesday afternoon, for a luncheon and election meeting.

A bountiful menu was served at 1 o'clock at a table nicely arranged in seasonal tones, and the business period followed immediately afterwards. The results follow: president, Mrs. Percy Walls; vice-president, Mrs. Frank Wadlinger; secretary, Mrs. C. V. Underwood; treasurer, Mrs. John Meyer.

A social period ensued, and later plans were made for their next meeting to take place on Wednesday, January 18 in the home of Mrs. C. M. England, Edgewood avenue.

HILLTOP MEMBERS HAVE ANNUAL PARTY

Mrs. Edward Long was a pleasing hostess on Wednesday evening when she entertained members of the Hilltop Club at her home, on Boyles avenue, in the form of a Christmas party. There was an exchange of gifts.

Games of contract bridge were enjoyed and the high score prize was awarded to Mrs. John Loudon, and Mrs. Joseph Campbell was given the "gallopers" award.

Special guests were Mrs. Harold Glenn, Mrs. Rex Hughes and Mrs. Earl Johnson, who were each given small remembrances. At a later hour the guests were served delicious refreshments and assisting the hostess was Mrs. Harold Glenn.

The next meeting will take place in the form of a dinner party at a local tea room, the date to be announced.

The Parent
Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

QUIZZ FOR CURIOUS CHILD

Our growing children are inclined to suppose that we parents and teachers are concerned about their conduct and manners just for selfish reasons. All too often the supposition is justified. Nevertheless, most of the things we strive to train them to do or not to do are reasonable. Inasmuch as the child wishes so often to know why, parents and teachers should capitalize on this urge. Therefore, in the home, with the individual child or the family, in the school or Sunday school with groups of children, we might, at times profitably have a little "quiz bee" somewhat as follows:

Why should I cover my face with a handkerchief when I sneeze?
Why should I scrub my hands, neck and ears myself, and not have my mother do it?
Why should I send myself to bed every night at a regular time, and not have to be driven there?
Why should I bring myself in from play when the street lights are turned on and not have to be called?
Why should I hang up my hat and coat when I come into the house and not throw them on the floor or on a chair?
Why should I help my mother cheerfully when she asks me to?

Regular Jobs

Why should I have some regular jobs at home which I always do without being told?
Why should boys as well as girls wash dishes and do other jobs about the house?
Why should I not stand on the furniture or jump up and down on it?
Why should I be very polite in the homes of my playmates?
Why should I not say ugly things to one playmate about another playmate?
Why should I not touch or handle things in the store before they are bought?
Why should I not play with children who steal or destroy things?
Why should I keep from crying when I am hurt or very angry?
Why should I not throw stones at birds, dogs or any other creatures?
Why should I never build a fire outside unless a grown person is with me?
Why should I not play or fight with sticks and stones?
Why should I not call anybody ugly names?
Why should I never throw anything at a house or automobile?
Why should I be careful about the flowers, shrubs and trees of the neighbors?
Why should I never write in a library book or turn the corners of a page in it?
Why should I protect weaker, younger children and never be a bully?

NEVER SAY DIE

May Robson is back at work in pictures. What a grand trouper Miss Robson is! When she first went to Hollywood seeking a "break" in the movies she was heard saying to Cecil De Mille:

"I'm broke, Cecil, and I'm looking for a job."

No fake front about Miss Robson. No pretense. She knew Hollywood considered her an old woman then. But plenty of people in Hollywood knew both England and America and acclaimed her as a great actress. With the simplicity and sincerity which make her a great actress she laid her cards on the table.

To show what she could do she appeared in skits at the old Writers' club—and she was marvellous. Then came "Lady For A Day" and such world-wide fame as she had never known before.

When she broke an arm recently, at the age of 73, many people sighed:

"That's all for May!"

But May Robson is unconquerable.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

COUNSEL

Son, when questioned: "How are you?"
Remember there is just one thing to say.
No matter what your pain or doubt may be.
Smile at your friend and say: "All's well with me!"
Laugh off the question. Don't be one of those Who jump at every chance to air their woes.

Son, when somebody asks you how you feel
Unless your physician, pain concedes.
For no one but a doctor really cares
About the pains the other fellow bears.

This is the truth which every one should know:
No layman wants to hear a tale of woe.

Friends ask about your health to be polite.
They want to hear you answer: "I'm all right!"
But if you start to grumble and complain
They'll seldom stop to question you again.

Smile at your friends and hide your petty fears
And save your ailments for the doctor's ears.

HINTS and DINTS

Sun sets tonight 4:47; sun rises tomorrow 7:25.

Some days ago we made the statement that there should be a central station where poor people could get some Christmas relief. We received a letter from a lady who said she was alone, no income and not able to make her own living. She wrote for some help but got none. She gave good references. All she wanted was a basket of food. She thinks as we do about giving Christmas stuff. Her letter is in this office to back up this statement and is signed.

A public official should never borrow any money from a politician. He should borrow it from other source—if he can.

"Well, what's happened now?" asked a friend.

"Well, we had an engagement to meet on the corner at 4 o'clock," she explained. "It was 5:30 when I got there and he won't admit that the rest he got while waiting did him good."

In a Scotch church the old minister who was very deaf was anxious to introduce some new hymn books into the church and asked his precursor to give out the notice immediately after the ceremony of his own, gave out that members of the congregation wishing to have their children baptized were to send their names into the vestry. The minister, thinking that it was the notice about the hymn books stood up and said: "And I wish to say for the benefit of those who have not any that they may be had in the vestry any afternoon between the hours of 3 and 4, ordinary little ones at a shilling each, and special little ones with red backs at one and three."

Reader's Question Answered

Dear Miss Market—At a dinner party should one sit down from the right or the left of the chair?

MARY JANE.

Answer—It does not matter. You may sit down in your chair from whichever side is most convenient. When you get up, do not push the chair back against the table. This is the servant's duty. Of course, when you are visiting a house where there is no servant, you should do everything possible to aid the hostess.

Landon's Part Wins Praise
Lima Conference Is Success
Argentina Shows Scepticism

By CHARLES P. STEWART

(Central Press Columnist)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5.—

Next to Secretary of State Cordell Hull it is clear that Alfred M. Landon did more than any other single member of the Yankee delegation at the recent Pan-American conference toward making a reasonable, even if a slightly qualified, success of the gathering in Lima, Peru.

Hull, Landon and associates did not get quite all they went after, but they got fully a fair share of it. The southern republics heartily agreed with Uncle Sam that all hands are a unit in opposing anybody's interference with their various western hemispherical interests and independencies. The only thing that Hull, Landon & Co. wanted, but failed to include in the New World countries' joint declaration of principles was a specific expression of hostility to OUTSIDE interference in their affairs—of course particularly meaning interference by Germany, Italy or Japan. Maybe it was just as well, in a way, that the declaration did not specify with unmistakable particularity. As Secretary Robert R. Reynolds remarks, hatred is unprofitable; it is injurious to the hater, but not necessarily injurious to the hatee. A lot of us surely do hate Hitler and Mussolini. Still, is it desirable to put it formally on record?

The really unpleasant implication is that some of our Latin New Worldlings consider that we (the U. S. A.) may yet try to be as domineering over them as Germany, Italy and Japan doubtless would like to be. Hence they remain a bit suspicious of us, too; in voicing disapproval of outside interference in their affairs they hint at a reaction around the grounds a few weeks after his appointment, when suddenly one of the inmates accosted him.

"Excuse me, sir," he said, raising his hat, "but I have the great pleasure of informing you that I and all my unfortunate friends like you better than the last superintendent."

"Thank you," replied the new man pleasantly. "And may I ask why?"

"Well, sir," answered the lunatic, "you seem more like one of us."

We are told that the Texas constitution bars ministers from serving as members of the state legislature, and some people are unkind enough to say it is a noble effort to keep religion pure.

Stop and go signs are being stolen in an Iowa city and there is a report that gasoline dealers there are thinking of making a demand for a police drive to stop this iniquitous theft.

A preacher in a neighboring city was presented with a beautiful stop watch at Christmas. Is there any special significance in a gift like that?

It isn't because Slick M. Upp was champion hurdler in college that makes him jump so when his wife calls.

Lumbia of Panama. Admiral Robley Evans said, referring to the Chileans, "If they fire on my ships all hell will smell of garlic"—a most undiplomatic utterance. We have had marines ashore in Nicaragua, Cuba, Haiti and San Domingo.

And the cantankerous Argentines? Why, when the United States entered the World War, Argentina saw fit to remain neutral—which was its privilege. However, a United States war squadron under Admiral Caperton was ordered to make the rounds of southern ports, to give an appearance of Pan-American solidarity. It was all right as to Rio de Janeiro and Montevideo, for Brazil and Uruguay were official belligerents, though not active. Argentina objected, being neutral. Nevertheless Caperton's squadron stayed at Buenos Aires for a fortnight, forcibly fracturing Argentine neutrality.

My, but the Argentines were angry! They were not so pro-German, either. In those war days I saw riots in which German shops were sacked in Buenos Aires. Besides, Germany's ambassador there made himself obnoxious and the government interned him on an island in the Rio de la Plata.

Hull's Gentle System

Secretary Hull could have wrecked the Lima conference and foreclosed all future Pan-American conferences by assuming an unyielding attitude toward the Argentine. He did not do it, thereby winning the whole outfit.

And Landon backed him perfectly. It was a stroke of genius, putting that Kansan on our Lima delegation.

It would not have been, if Landon had not proved to be ideal selection. But he did. He could not have been improved on. The contrary-wise of his political partisanship anomalously was exactly what was needed to solidify Uncle Sam's position at the Lima conference.

The beaten candidate at the last presidential election could completely have crabbled the game at Lima, had he elected to do so.

Instead he made a corking success of it.

He comes back a wonder at the game of inter-American diplomacy.

That conference has made him a blamed sight bigger man than he was a presidential candidate.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1939 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

If you're feeling a little trackless as the calendar paces you into one more of those annual run-arounds between the home and the job, consider a new book, "Vagabond Voyaging," by Larry Nixon. It is the story of freighter-travel, frequently cheaper than staying at home, and somehow judging you farther into long-dreamed-of enchantment than does more costly voyaging.

Mr. Nixon, a newspaperman, flashes up his lure of interest in a most workmanlike fashion, and he does something that few do. He tells you how much adventure with everything from price tags to menus and, at the same time, keeps the scented breezes of Samarkand stirring through his book.

A few of the chapter headings tell the story of Mr. Nixon's industry and thoroughness: "How Much?" "What is a Freight?" "Where Do We Sleep?" "What Do We Eat?" "Drinks." "The People You Meet." "Occupations at Sea." "Clothes." "Preparation." "Around the World."

Like many old mansions of the South, the world's merchant marine begins "taking paying guests."

few travelers, from one or two on up to a dozen or so, help put a voyage in being in days of world mightily close figuring as world trade ebbs. Food and accommodations are good, with beds instead of bunks, large, clean ships with plenty of deck lee way and companionable officers, crew and fellow passengers—from $3 or $4 a day on up to $6.

"You may think of freight vessels as dingy, dirty and ancient," writes Mr. Nixon. "Take a trip on a tramp steamer, someone will say, and immediately you have a vision of a tramp, an unkempt individual, begging a handout at kitchen doors. Well, just as the hobo of yesterday has vanished, there are no old-fashioned tramp steamers; owners don't find them profitable. A few old ships are available for one-trip charter, but they're rapidly being junked."

"Nowadays cargo moves on regular routes in freighters, modern, clean, fast freighters that go everywhere. Samarang, Sourabaya, Sumatra, Singapore, and Shanghai; Jaffa, Haifa, Beirut and Malaga; Port Said, Colombo, Madras and Calcutta; names that ring with the romance of the crossroads of the far oceans. Every day from American shores, some freighter puts her nose down to the seas and starts her journey to ports like these: a huge, clean vessel off on her scheduled route; her twelve passengers lining the rail as the shore fades from view."

"Most of the newer ships are Diesel-motored, practically all of them burn oil instead of coal. It costs too much to move slowly. Only swift vessels can profitably operate in these days of keen competition."

Mr. Nixon makes much of the free-and-easy voyaging, with no starch or ruffles and no organized entertainment. As to having a good time, you just roll your own. For instance:

"Would you have been one of Tom Sawyer's customers on the

First Degree Penalty Out

State Not Asking For
"Chair" Penalty In
Trial Of Prison Guards

SEPARATE TRIALS FOR EACH CASE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 5.—The shadow of the electric chair was removed today from possible verdicts in the trials of 10 Holmesburg prison officials and guards accused of responsibility for the "roasting alive" of four convicts last August in the institution's radiator-lined punishment cells.

The Commonwealth will not press for convictions in the first degree, punishable by death or life imprisonment, Judge Robert E. Lamberton observed during the selection of a jury for the trial of the first defendant, Deputy Warden Frank A. Craven.

Capital Punishment Out
"There is no question of capital punishment involved in this case," the presiding jurist told a prospective woman juror who asked to be excused because she was against death sentence.

Five prison officials, including Superintendent of County Prisons William B. Mills, were indicted on two bills, one charging murder and the other manslaughter, in the death of each of the four prisoners. Five guards, to be tried in a group, are charged with voluntary and involuntary manslaughter.

Besides the four who perished, 21 other convicts were confined in the tomblike isolation cell block, which authorities have since termed "worse than the black hole of Calcutta." Although several of the latter were unconscious when removed from the "bake oven," all have recovered and are expected to testify as prosecution witnesses.

Separate Trials
Judge Lamberton granted the five officials separate trials, but overruled a defense motion that all deaths resulted from one action and therefore Craven should be tried for all four deaths at once. The deputy warden, who pleaded not guilty, is being tried for the death of Frank Camodea.

Defense attorneys vigorously objected to the jurist's ruling, pointing out that under it Craven and the others could each be tried four times.

The selection of the jury brought out even more strongly that a long drawn-out, bitterly fought legal battle is ahead. An entire day and one full panel of 55 veniremen was spent in selecting the first 10 jurors for the opening trial.

West Va. Students Sever Relations With Germany

(International News Service)
MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Jan. 5.—West Virginia university students today snapped their fingers at cable tolls, the only apparent cost in their severing of relations with Germany after a Berlin newspaper rapped them smartly for mocking Chancellor Hitler.

"Das Schwarze Korps," Berlin storm troop organ, termed the "Every Man a Fuehrer" party staged by a campus fraternity last November as "impudent, shameless and silly." The Daily Athenaeum, student newspaper at the university, replied in a first page editorial and this cable was sent to the Nazi papers:

"Universchamnet, schamios, albern (impudent, shameless and silly) West Virginia students hereby sever diplomatic relations with Germany, prosit!"

The party in question, Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity members said, was "all in fun." The party was featured in a recent issue of "Life" magazine.

drawings for a New York advertising agency. All day she labors at a drawing board making fine, short strokes with a fine pen. Her broadest line will never be more than an ordinary pencil mark. There isn't even a brush on her desk. She might almost be said to be working in miniature. Once a year she leaves her drawing board under the skylight, turns off the harsh electric lights and lies herself to Montreal. There, aboard a freighter . . . she embarks on a round-trip voyage to England. She climbs into dungarees, grabs a four-inch brush and starts to give the ship a dose of painting as painting should be done.

"You get something done this way," she'll tell any passenger who happens to grow inquisitive about her feverish behavior.

Mr. Nixon gives account of all sorts of fascinating occupations and pastimes—"There's lots to do on a freighter."

In his appendix, he lists about 400 voyages, from $100 up to $600, up and down and around the world, and into every little ambuscade of romance and adventure that any strap-hanger ever dreamed of. And, as Andrew Steward says of the book in his foreword, "It not only makes you want to start off to the other side of the world, but makes it look as if there was no reason why you shouldn't."

Strophosymbiosis is a failure of the brain to adjust itself to printed or written language. Da Vinci wrote backward, and was a left-handed strophosymbiotic.

Buckner-Gillespie Plead Not Guilty

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—William F. Buckner, 32, stockbroker and his associate, William J. Gillespie, 37,

Wednesday pleaded not guilty before Federal Judge Murray Hulbert to charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with alleged manipulation of Philippine Railway bonds.

Buckner, returning from California where he was photographed going to church with Loretta Young, film star, smilingly turned queries as to a possible romance over to his attorney, Colley Williams.

OVERSTEP LIMIT
SACRAMENTO, Cal.—Horses are not jitterbugs. This fact was definitely established when a team of farm horses, plowing a field on the Kingsburg high school campus, heard strains of a swing version of "The Blue Danube Waltz" played by the school band. They bolted their work and ran far afield dragging the un-manned plow behind them.

State Senator Dando In West

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—Senator Joseph P. Dando, Schuylkill County Democrat, is now in Oklahoma City, it was authoritatively learned today. It was reported he would remain there for two weeks.

Senator Dando failed to put in an appearance yesterday for the senate organization. His vote would have permitted the Democrats to organize the senate and elect a president pro tem. Instead the Republicans assumed control.

Dando was assailed on the floor of the senate, preceding the vote for president pro tem, by Senator John Dent, Westmoreland Democrat, who charged him with "taking flight to Oklahoma," where, commented Dent caustically, "I think he struck oil."

SHORTAGE OF MALE COOKS
(International News Service)
WEST HARTFORD, Conn.—"Men just don't like to cook or do housework." That is the explanation offered by Miss Lyde Wayne, operator of an employment agency, who said positions for men in West Hartford homes are going begging. "This despite the fact that good salaries are paid for the work, according to Miss Wayne.

Use a wet cloth or soft, absorbent cotton to pick up broken glass. The dustiest bits will adhere to it, and it is wise to discard cloth and all after the operation.

Foreign Policy Changes Likely

Great Britain Sees Some Possible Far Reaching Effects Of Roosevelt Message

CHAMBERLAIN MAY TAKE STIFFER STAND

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 5.—President Roosevelt's vigorous new attack on dictatorships and his firm warning that America is preparing to defend herself against both cultural and territorial incursions may bring about an important change in Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's foreign policies, authoritative British circles believed today.

Satisfaction in London and Paris, virtual silence in Rome and a storm of anger in Berlin over the president's message to congress provided the chief keynote of official European reaction to the president's address to congress and appeared to set the stage for future European political developments.

May Change Policies
Circles close to the British government expressed the opinion that the speech will be bound to exercise a decisive influence upon the orientation of the policies of Chamberlain and Premier Mussolini. They also predicted that it may bring about a considerable change in the attitude of Prime Minister Chamberlain toward Hitler.

Unofficial quarters believed that Chamberlain's hand has been greatly strengthened for his forthcoming conference with Mussolini in Rome later this month. The "flying premier" has now gone to Italy, it was pointed out, equipped with new ammunition in his drive to quell the dictators by "appeasement."

Chamberlain was believed warmly to have welcomed President Roosevelt's declarations, particularly because they will enable him to point out to Hitler that anything in the nature of aggressive unilateral action by the dictators can only have the effect of marshalling Democratic strength against them.

Contrast With "Timidity"
British quarters opposed to the Chamberlain government acridly contrasted President Roosevelt's vigorous, out-spoken words with what they termed the "timidity" so far displayed by the prime minister in his dealings with the totalitarian powers.

These circles expressed hopes that the lead furnished by the American president would convince Chamberlain that "kid-glove methods" are out of date as applied to European dictators.

Meanwhile, much British interest centered upon President Roosevelt's references to the United States neutrality act. It was felt here that revision of this measure would enable Great Britain to stiffen her attitude toward the dictators in the knowledge that American supplies would not be withheld from her in the event of a European war.

Among the British public, the president's speech, which was broadcast by radio throughout the nation was warmly welcomed by all shades of political opinion.

Laborites argued that it was an attack on Chamberlain's "pusillanimity." Tories insisted it supported Chamberlain's policies.

Student Speakers Are Being Heard

The interest and attendance at the special mid-winter evangelistic meetings at the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle are increasing nightly. Bible Institute student members of the tabernacle are in charge, speaking and presenting vocal and instrumental numbers.

John Fleck, formerly a cornetist for a night club orchestra, was the speaker last evening. His subject was "Redemption Through the Blood of Christ." He also sang "Good Night Here But Good Morning Up There," and played on his cornet a gospel number entitled "After."

Tonight Anthony Pagley, formerly a pianist in the same orchestra, will speak and will play several piano selections. Wayne Shellenberger, who has been conducting the song service nightly, will speak Friday evening.

ARRESTED HERE BY SHOWALTER

Josephine Tyson, colored, who resides in an alley in the rear of Mahoning street, was arrested at 6 p. m. Wednesday, by Detective Chief Ray Showalter on a charge of having received stolen goods. It was reported at police headquarters she had purchased from William Stutz and Oscar Koe, Farrell youths, liquor which reportedly was stolen from Farrell recently. She was given into custody of Farrell officers and taken there, it was said.

LARGE SUBSTATION

Three industrial buildings were placed under construction here last year, the most costly being a $75,000 sub-station being constructed by the Pennsylvania Power company in Cedar street. Another industrial building at a cost of $6,500 was launched in May and an industrial office structure, at a cost of $2,000, was started in August.

SENATOR EROE EXPLAINS WHAT INFLUENCED VOTE

the election of John Morlock as secretary; Dennis Mulvihill as chief clerk and Thomas Callahan, librarian.

Senate Barber Ousted
Harrisburg, Jan. 5.—Frank Thompson will no longer clip the hair of Pennsylvania senators! Democratic members of the upper house charged he helped clip them of the post of president pro tem. So they ousted him and replaced him with Price L. Byerly, a "loyal" Democrat.

Thompson had attended to senatorial tonsorial needs for eight or seventeen years, but today he had come a cropper, all because Sen. William J. Eroe, Lawrence-Beaver Democrat, voted with the Republicans to elect a president pro tem.

The Democrats claimed that it was in the senate barber shop, in which Thompson presided as official senate barber, that Senator Eroe was persuaded by Republican senators et al that he should vote Republican.

Eroe, after an absence of almost three hours, made his appearance in the senate chamber via the barber shop.

Ironically enough, it was Eroe's vote which deprived Thompson of his senatorial shears, for it was with Eroe's vote that the Democrats elected their senatorial appointments, all that is, with the exception of the president pro tem.

Eroe switched back to the Democratic side after voting to seat Republican Senator Frederick T. Gelder, Susquehanna, as president pro tem.

Thompson's name was not on the list of senatorial employees whose election his vote made possible.

The Democrats are sure that Thompson's successor will see to it that henceforth the doors of the barber shop are not locked to "loyal" Democrats.

Copperheads, so-called because of the reddish coloring of their heads, are considered among the most handsome of reptiles, and are quite common in northeastern states.

Teachers Lose Out In Re-Instatement Fight In Scranton

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—It was a case of finding some other kind of work for 22 Scranton school teachers today as they lost their fight for reinstatement by the Scranton school board.

Lackawanna common pleas judge T. Linus Hoban yesterday upheld the board's right to suspend teachers when a lack of pupils makes it inadvisable for a surplus of instructors.

The teachers, suspended last February, because of a decrease in student enrollment, instituted mandamus proceedings against the board. They contended the board lacked authority to suspend them and demanded reinstatement.

MISS MAUD RYHAL MARRIES IN WEST

New Castle friends are interested in wedding news from the middle west today. They learned that Miss Maud Ryhal, of Oklahoma City, a well known former resident of New Castle, became the bride during the holidays, of Charles Couch, retired Oklahoma ranchman.

Mrs. Couch has a great many New Castle friends, having been for some years with the Strimater Store's millinery department. She left New Castle to become a buyer in the west and later became owner of an exclusive millinery shop.

Mr. Couch, a land owner in Oklahoma's rich oil section, is well known in the Oklahoma City section. The couple passed part of their honeymoon in Kansas, and at Hutchinson they visited Mr. and Mrs. John H. Dyck. Mrs. Dyck is the former Miss Grace Reed of New Castle, also well known. It will interest local friends to learn that Mrs. Dyck's daughter Grace Estelle Dyck, is now a student at Delta State College in Cleveland, Mississippi and was home for the holidays.

Observes 81st Birthday

Friends of Chester O. Morrow, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. John White, of Highland avenue, are showering him with post cards to-day, congratulating him on the occasion of the 81st anniversary of his birthday.

Mr. Morrow has been a life long resident of this city. Mrs. Morrow, his wife, died 15 years ago last June. Sixteen years ago, Mr. Morrow was retired with pension by the United States Steel Corporation. He had been a tinworker for many years, and was employed at the New Castle Plant.

For the past eleven years, he had spent his winters in Florida, but owing to ill health was unable to go this year. Today he feels much improved.

This evening Mrs. White will give a luncheon to the immediate family, in honor of the occasion.

Happy Group Club

Mrs. Fred Cepro was hostess to members of the Happy Group club on Wednesday evening at her home on Long avenue.

Needlework was the main pastime and the club token was captured by Mary Ellen Bordenaro.

Mrs. Joseph Bordenaro of 8th St. invited the club to meet with her on January 10.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Margaret Bordenaro.

The next regular meeting will be held on January 17, at the home of Margaret Bordenaro of 1006 South Mill street. Husbands and friends will be honored guests.

Sub Deb Club

Miss Xenia Lesh will receive members of the Sub Deb club at her home on West Washington street this evening.

PARTY HONORS MRS. McNICHOLAS

Female employees of the New Castle Drug Co., East Washington and Mercer streets, gathered in the home of Mrs. Flora Sowash, Spruce street, recently, for a delightful surprise farewell party honoring Mrs. J. P. McNicholas, who has been transferred to the firm's other local store.

For the event, the table was attractively decorated in red and white. Dinner was served by candlelight. The honored guest was presented with a number of useful gifts. Mrs. Sowash and Mrs. Cecelia McCullough served. Games and dancing were the pastimes. Mrs. McNicholas will manage the company's store on North Mill street.

The committee in charge: Loretta Cumberledge, Marge Mershand, Virginia Flout, Dorothy Lytle, Beva Cochran, Rose Chill, Josephine Annerella and Mrs. Sowash. Gretchen Cochran was a special guest.

BIRTHDAY HONORED AT JESSEL RESIDENCE

A surprise party was given in honor of Betty Lalley Wednesday, at the home of her sister, Mrs. Walter Jessel on Winslow avenue, as a medium of celebrating her fourteenth birthday anniversary.

A series of games and contests claimed attention including bingo, and dancing. Those winning prizes were Dorothy Walker, Janet Forman, Beatrice, Margaret and Dorothy Swanson.

As special guests, they had Vera and Patricia Jessel and Joan and Walter Howard.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree.

Priscilla Club

Mrs. E. Martone was a pleasing hostess to members of the Priscilla club, Wednesday evening at her home on Cherry street.

Plans were completed for a theatre-dinner party to be held on January 7.

Sewing and cards were enjoyed by the group.

At an appointed hour, the hostess served a dainty luncheon, assisted by her sister, Lucy.

The next meeting will be on January 11, at the home of Mrs. T. C. Rainey, Liberty street.

W. F. M. S. Place Change

Instead of in the home of Mrs. S. Emma Baer on Wallace avenue, the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First M. E. church will meet Friday at 2:30 p. m. in the church parlor. The change is made because of Mrs. Baer's illness.

J. O. Y. Class

The J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist church will meet Friday night at the home of Mrs. Mabel Jones, 214 West Sheridan avenue. Transportation from the church at 7:45.

HELEN McCOLLUM NEW WORTHY ADVISOR

Wednesday evening, at the meeting of New Castle Assembly No. 1, Order of Rainbow for Girls, assembled in the Cathedral, Miss Helen McCollum was elected as worthy advisor for the new term of the organization.

Others elected were: Joanna Hood, worthy associate advisor; Rosetta Trehanne, Charity; Claribell Cope, Hope; Beryl Morgan, Faith.

Two other officers elected for a term of one year were Geraldine Flick as secretary and Dorothy Felch as recorder. Mrs. Orville Potter is mother advisor.

Miss Mary Keefe, outgoing worthy advisor, will preside as the installing officer at the public meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Jan. 18.

GRAND ARMY LADIES DINNER-INSTALLATION

Ladies of the Grand Army, George McGroeken Circle No. 168, enjoyed a turkey dinner party on Tuesday noon in Modern Woodman hall.

Installation of officers followed, with Mrs. Martha Locke presiding as the installing officer. Those taking office follow: president, Mrs. Florence Hoover; senior vice, Mrs. Eva Stewart; junior vice, Mrs. Nevada Robinson; treasurer, Mrs. Blanche Boston; secretary, Mrs. Rose Tripp; conductor, Mrs. Agnes Miller; guard, Mrs. Martha Locke; chaplain, Mrs. Minnie Mayers; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Lula Schetrom.

Mrs. Schetrom, who has served as president of the organization for the past three years, and never missing a meeting during that period, was honored with a special gift in behalf of the lodge.

Plans were made for a bingo and card party for January 31 in Modern Woodman hall.

M. P. M. Club Meets

An enjoyable evening was Wednesday when members of the M. P. M. club gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Peluso of Blunsdon avenue.

The playing of cards and bingo were the pastimes, with prizes being awarded to Joseph DeMucci and Andrew Angelo. Mrs. Joseph DeMucci captured the door prize.

The club decided to hold their meetings on Wednesday evening, instead of Thursday.

A barbecue lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Clara Cugini and Mrs. Andrew Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ross of Taylor street, will entertain on January 25.

All-Together Club

Mrs. Pasqualina Donofrio was hostess to members of the All-Together club, Wednesday evening, at her residence on Luton street.

Card playing was the diversion, with high score prizes going to Mrs. Assunta Oreili and Marie Tuscano.

At a later hour the guests were served a tasty lunch by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Mary.

The special guest of the evening was Mrs. Guertino Filigenti. On January 19, Mrs. Assunta Ruscelli of Division street will entertain.

Yucatan Club To Meet

Yucatan club members will meet on Monday evening in the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Foster, North Mercer street.

The usual routine will be observed, and the hour is 8 o'clock.

1923 S. L. MEMBERS PLAN ANNUAL DINNER

Plans were formulated for an annual dinner event to take place on Wednesday, January 18, at the Elks club for members of the 1923 S. L. club. The details were rounded out at their meeting on Wednesday evening, which took place in the home of Mrs. Jack Hannon on Park avenue, hostess.

For diversion cards were in play with Mrs. Charles Dean and Mrs. James McGivern winning the trophies. Lunch was served by the hostess at the close.

Mrs. Henry Nicoletti, a special guest of the evening, aided the hostess.

PAST MISTRESSES CLUB GIFT EXCHANGE

Past Worthy Mistresses club members gathered in a downtown tea room Wednesday for their annual holiday party.

Dinner was served at the chosen hour, and following, attention was turned to contests in cards. For 500, Mrs. J. B. Daugherty, Mrs. E. B. Ray and Mrs. Mary Ousler were prize winners. Special guests who participated included Mrs. David Summer, Mrs. Kate Stanley and Mrs. George Miller. The first two carried off the guest awards.

A short business period was followed with an exchange of gifts.

On Friday, February 3, Mrs. George Lewis of Butz street will be hostess at their regular meeting.

FIELD CLUB HOSTS NAMED FOR TONIGHT

This evening Mr. and Mrs. Louis Kohn will preside as hosts to members of the New Castle Field club, when members gather for one of their series of informal bridge parties, planned for 1939.

Play will begin at 8:30 o'clock, with trophies going to those winning honors. Lunch will be served at the close.

LADIES AUXILIARY OF EAGLES TO MEET

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Eagles has invited all mothers, sisters and daughters of Eagle members to attend a luncheon held this evening at eight o'clock at the Eagles home, corner of Jefferson and South streets.

Fraleigh-Rhodes

Mr. and Mrs. William Fraleigh of Wilson avenue announce the marriage of their daughter Ruth to William A. Rhodes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rhodes of Lyndal street. The ceremony was an event of Friday, December 30, and took place in the Maitland church parsonage with the Rev. J. A. Tinker officiating at the service.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of the class of '37 from the New Castle high school and the groom also studied at Slippery Rock college. He is now employed at The Castleton hotel.

The couple will make their new home at 525 Lyndal street.

Jolly Half Dozen

Mrs. Herbert Saxton, Jr., was a pleasing hostess on Wednesday evening when she received members of the Jolly Half Dozen club at her home on John street. Mrs. Herbert Saxton, Sr., was a special guest.

Games and song claimed attention as the main pastimes. Assisting the hostess at a later period with the serving of a tasty lunch was Mrs. Anna McClimans.

Mrs. Walter Kirkwood will entertain members at her home on Arlington avenue on January 18.

Collick-Hill

Announcement was made today by Mr. and Mrs. Nick Collick of Hillsville of the marriage of their daughter, Agnes Collick, to Louis Hill, son of Mrs. Harry Murphy of Hillsville.

The ceremony was quietly performed Saturday, October 22, at the parsonage of the Methodist church in Cumberland, Md., with Rev. George E. Baughman presiding. Mr. and Mrs. Hill were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Best of Hillsville. The newly married couple will reside in Hillsville.

Wedding Date Chosen

Miss Florence Marotti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Marotti of Cunningham avenue, a bride-elect of this month, has chosen the date January 17 for her marriage to Charles Cioffi, son of Mrs. Antoinetta Cioffi of South Mercer street.

Miss Rosaline Marotti, sister of the bride-elect, will be maid of honor. James DeCarbo will serve as best man.

The ceremony will take place at 9:30 in the St. Joseph's church.

HADASSAH PLANS CULTURAL PROGRAM

On Saturday afternoon at two o'clock members and friends of the New Castle chapter of Hadassah will enjoy a Sabbath afternoon cultural program at the home of Mrs. J. Levine, 418 Neshannock avenue.

This occasion will fittingly honor the 78th birthday anniversary of Miss Henrietta Szold, founder of Hadassah, and at present the head of the Youth Aliyah movement in Jerusalem, which has succeeded in transferring 3,100 boys and girls exiled from central Europe to Palestine.

Locally, a Henrietta Szold birthday fund is being forwarded to National Hadassah to be used for Youth Aliyah purposes work.

An interesting program has been prepared for the afternoon by Mrs. Sam Edelstein, cultural chairman of the local Hadassah. Palestinian folk songs will be sung, with the rabbi of the community leading in the singing. Mrs. Sophie Azesky Levine of Youngstown, O., will be the guest of the afternoon. She has recently visited Palestine and will speak of Miss Szold, whom she has met there.

As the main feature of the program she will review the book, "Roots in the Sky".

The hostesses for the afternoon will be Mrs. L. F. Kohn, Mrs. G. Slovonsky, Mrs. D. Tobin, Mrs. P. Alpern and Mrs. S. Levine.

JEWISH JUNIOR LEAGUE GUESTS ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Dorothy Levine, together with the Misses Sara Waldman and Dora Winick, entertained as co-hostesses on Wednesday evening members of the Jewish Junior League in the former's home on Edison avenue.

Special plans were given consideration for future events, including a skating party on Monday, Jan. 9.

A social period ensued, bringing the evening to a close.

Querriera-Cioffi

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Querriera of 801 Court street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to Anthony Cioffi, son of James Cioffi of Cunningham avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Infantile Paralysis Drive Held Important

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The plagues which have afflicted mankind are disappearing. It would have seemed a miracle to a man of Greece in the greatest period of her civilization, to be told that the disease which they called "the ague" and which we call "malaria" would disappear. It would have seemed equally miraculous to the man of the Middle Ages, or to the settler in the Mississippi Valley when America was beginning to be populated. Malaria killed more people than any other pestilence, more than all the wars of mankind's making, and yet since that day in 1897 when Ronald Ross discovered that mosquitoes transmitted the disease, it has become practically obsolete. There are many physicians today who have never seen a case of malaria.

Yellow fever, once devastated Philadelphia and other Atlantic seaboard cities regularly, in 1793 in New York City it was written that grave-digging was the only business that was carried on. But since 1881 yellow fever has become a thing of the past.

Typhoid fever killed more soldiers during the Civil War than bullets, and diphtheria decimated whole communities of young people. But these are now no more. Certain cities in the United States have not had a death from diphtheria in several years.

Most Dreaded To Remain

With this record behind us, it is not impossible that any pestilence may be subdued. Infantile paralysis probably the most dreaded of those that remain. The disability and lameness that may follow its visitation, make it so.

And while we do not know the exact cause, we have enough information to lead us to hope that before long we will be in possession of definite means of fighting it. We know that it is contagious and that it is transmitted from one person to another probably through the nasal discharges. It enters the nervous system through the nose, passing up the nerve fibers of the organ of smell.

A few years ago it was announced by a medical clinic that by spraying the inside of the nose with a solution of a caustic metal salt, the nerves were sealed so that the virus could not travel up, and prevention was possible by this means. The method formed the basis of a moving picture lately released, called "A Man to Remember." It is unfortunate the play got such wide publicity because the method proved too painful and destructive to be practical, but at least it pointed to the magnificent possibilities involved—a whole community protected against the disease while neighboring places are having a serious and terrifying epidemic.

Not Far Off

And such a possibility—nay, probability—is by no means distant. At present the most effective method of treatment we have is convalescent serum, given in the early stages. Rehabilitation after paralysis has occurred offers many hopes.

It is true that much remains to be learned about infantile paralysis. But we know enough to feel that every expectation of ultimate success will be realized. Certainly the idea of a concentrated drive, as emphasized by the action of the President's Birthday Ball Committee, is one most likely to be crowned with success.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Drake and children of Leesburg visited Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stitt last week.

Clarence Scannell of Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh, spent Monday night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Scannell.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Humphrey of New Castle were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Humphreys.

Mr. and Mrs. John Sampson, Jeanne and John, Jr., have returned to Monessen after a week's visit with relatives here.

Rev. Hiram Van Cleve and family moved to Altoona, Pa., December 27. Their many friends wish them great success in their new field of work.

AROUND CITY HALL

Building operations in 1938 fell below operations in 1937, according to statistics obtained today from Neil Williams, building bureau clerk, city hall. In 1937, operations cost $439,925 and in 1938 operations cost $277,955. However, more dwellings were built in 1938 than during 1937, the number being 18 and 13, respectively. The estimated cost of the 1938 houses was $51,700. Mercantile buildings were reported to have cost $56,500, and industrial buildings $83,700 last year. The new construction for 1938 cost $235,575 and remodeling and repairs $51,350.

There were only 16 cases of contagious illness reported in New Castle during December, 1938, according to a report compiled in the city health bureau.

Twelve hundred and fourteen tons of garbage were collected and incinerated during December, 1938, according to Edward Umbricht, in charge of the garbage department. In addition employees collected and disposed of 114 loads of tin cans.

There is probably less animal life here now than during December, it having been reported by Edward Umbricht of the garbage department, that employees picked up 75 dead dogs, 27 dead cats, two dead rabbits and one dead opossum.

REALTY TRANSFERS

Beaver County Building and Loan Association to Oscar W. Hooker, fourth ward, Ellwood City, $2150.

Checks for the payment of a bond obligation and interest have been made by the county treasurer; the bond payment being $19,000 of poor bonds which were due and the payment of $1620 interest, plus a payment of $7807.50 interest due on road and highway bonds.

Work is under way in the office of County Controller Frank W. Hill on the budget for the coming year and upon the annual statement which must be made shortly. The statement will show exactly what has been spent by the county in the past year and the budget will show what is intended being spent. A total of the institutional district costs for the past year shows $128,656.01 spent. This includes all institutions where indigents are kept and the cost of relief to the county.

The prisoners in the county jail would like to thank a lady in the city if they knew her name. On New Year's Day 34 one-pound boxes of candy came up to the jail and 34 cigars. The candy was home made and the cigars were of good quality. The boys enjoyed the treat and for them this column says thanks.

The number of Democrats changing their registration to Republican seems to be on the increase. On Tuesday 22 signified their intention of becoming Republicans.

The rush in the county treasurer's office is subsiding. About 200 checks and statements remain to be put through the books and the grand rush to pay delinquent taxes will be

Eleanor Pitsch from Henry Charles Pitsch, Eva Wells from Wilbur H. Wells, Martha M. Rick from Bert-ran C. Rick, Irene Lenore Morris from Aubrey C. Morris, Eleanor L. Knobloch from Charles Edward Knobloch, Dorothy Jenkins from Walter Jenkins, Phoebe Dufford Jones from William J. Jones, Ella J. Boffing from John F. Boffing.

Pay $15,405 For 1938 Garages

There were 82 garages erected here last year, which show an estimated total cost of $15,405. In November $2,820 was paid for garages, autos, no doubt, having the construction hurried in order to house cars before snow fell.

FENCES NOT GONE

The day of the fence is not yet ended judging from the number of permits issued during 1938 by the city building bureau, 80 having been granted.

Rheumatism, the Crippler. Rheumatism is responsible for 9 per cent of all disability.

Chronic arthritis is the most common form of rheumatism.

It is the greatest single cause of disability today.

Chronic arthritis produces many pensionable invalids.

It is the oldest recorded disease and universal.

Rheumatism is prevalent in certain industries.

Those, for instance, where the surroundings are damp.

Or where the worker is exposed to extremes of heat and cold.

Deaths from rheumatism are negligible in comparison.

But it is more costly than tuberculosis was 50 years ago.

Rheumatism is painful, disabling and costly.

Game Commission Moves To Wipe Out Pack Of Coyotes

Coyotes Have Destroyed Deer And Domestic Animals In Elk County Area

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Jan. 5.—The state game commission moved today to wipe out a pack of coyotes which have destroyed deer and domestic animals in the northern tier of Elk county, in the vicinity of Ridgway. Seth W. Gordon, executive director of the state game commission, said that "it wouldn't be desirable" to allow the coyotes to multiply and that trappers had been sent into the area in an attempt to rid the region of the animals.

At the same time, Gordon set alase the minds of residents of the area, located about 12 miles from Ridgway and known as the Owl's Nest section, who complained of the animals prowling around their homes at night and feared personal attacks.

No Real Danger
"There is no danger of the coyotes making a personal attack on people," Gordon asserted. "They are much too timid for that."

Two of the animals, he said, have already been caught in traps, taken to the Harrisburg zoo, and identified by the game commission as coyotes. Gordon indicated that reports that the animals were timber wolves were not true and said game experts from the Biological Survey in Washington confirmed the state commission's identification.

Meanwhile, Gordon disclosed that one of the trappers first sent into the area to capture the coyotes—Chauncey E. Logue, First Fork Cameron county—had retired as of Dec. 31. Logue, Gordon revealed, was eligible for retirement allowance and decided to return to private life.

Not Timber Wolves
Gordon declared that the coyotes—which he estimated as now numbering only "three or four"—have begun to congregate around farms in the region, destroying domestic poultry, domestic sheep and livestock.

"If they were timber wolves," the commissioner declared, "they would stay far back in the woods and not prow around the farms."

He said that he believed the coyotes comprised "one good sized family."

This is the "fifth or sixth case" of this nature, Gordon stated, that has come before the commission in the last 20 years. He suggested that the animals had been brought in "as pups" by some one and eventually, as they grew larger, became wild and ran away.

Ahepa Election To Take Place Sunday

Chapter Will Meet In St. George's Church; Brown To Report

Members of the New Castle chapter of the Order of Ahepa will elect officers for 1939 and hear the annual report of their president, Peter Brown, at a meeting in St. George's Greek Orthodox church Sunday, January 8 at 2:30 p. m.

After the election, a discussion will center on the national Ahepa organization's own sanitarium at Albuquerque, N. M.

Refreshments will be served at the close.

Two of the city policemen who worked strenuously to help recover the body of the late Edward Maden, 5, drowned Tuesday in the Shanango river, were Officers H. E. and H. L. Richards.

The glass in a rear door to the Danish pastry, North Mill street, was found broken, according to a report at police headquarters this morning. Nothing was missed from the business place.

Last Service In Series Tonight

Rev. Milton E. Shearer Conducts Fine Service On Wednesday Night

Last service in the "Week of Prayer" series will be held tonight at 7:45 o'clock, in the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church. This will be a union service with the Presbyterian, Methodist, and Christian church congregations taking part. Rev. D. J. Blasdel will deliver the sermon and will be assisted by the other ministers.

Wednesday evening, the special service was conducted in the Mahoning Methodist church. Rev. Milton E. Shearer, pastor of the Madison Avenue Christian church, delivered a fine sermon on the topic, "Open Windows of Prayer." The church auditorium was well filled with members of the three ward churches.

Civic Club Has Dinner Meeting

Plans For Winter Activities Of Civic Club Discussed At Church

Another of the extremely successful dinner meetings for members of the Seventh Ward Civic club was held Wednesday afternoon in the basement of the Mahoning Methodist church, with Raymond Horchler presiding.

Plans for winter activities for the club and for the community were the main items of discussion heard during the session.

An advertising campaign that will place the Seventh ward area before the public in a better manner was discussed. The business men of the district seemed in favor of the idea, but action was deferred until a future meeting.

Special Badges To Be Given Scouts

A meeting of Boy Scout Troop 4, has been called for tonight, at 7:00 o'clock by Scoutmaster Wilfred Paul. This meeting will be held in the new meeting room in the Madison Avenue Christian church.

Special badges will be given to the boys at this meeting, Scoutmaster Paul announced.

ECZEMA CALLED ONE OF
WORST ALLERGIES OF INFANTS

The physician knows that eczema in a baby is almost certainly caused by some food it has taken through the mouth, and since about the only food a new-born infant gets is milk, it is almost impossible to remove the offending protein and still give the baby an adequate diet. These difficulties are added to by the fact that you can't take a skin test while a rash is present. In any case, be sure to have your child under the care of your doctor because old-fashioned remedies meet with but small success in treating an allergy like eczema.

If the baby is nursing and is receiving only breast milk when the eczema starts, then we know that the protein causing the trouble is coming from one of two sources. It may be one of the two proteins that are normally present in milk, or it may be a foreign protein which the mother has eaten and which has made its appearance in the milk.

It is pretty well known that the eating of eggs is the most common cause of eczema amongst children. When a small baby contracts it, however, we know he hasn't been eating eggs, but his mother may have, and traces of this protein are sometimes found in breast milk. Thus the first step in treating breast-fed babies who have eczema is to systematically cut down on any protein in the mother's diet which might be causing the trouble.

Sometimes all this fails, and the eczema persists. In such cases I have found that if the child is otherwise healthy and is steadily gaining in weight, it is much better to continue breast-feeding him than it is to wean him, for if he is sensitive to his own mother's milk, he is almost certain to show as much or more reaction if you put him on cow's milk.

Of all the allergies from which mankind suffers perhaps the most troublesome, as far as babies are concerned, is eczema. In fact, the appearance of eczema on your three or four-weeks' old baby may be a warning that you are in for one of the most difficult and discouraging times a parents has to go through.

Eczema is a skin rash that begins as a roughness and redness of the skin, most often around the face. It is a scaly, disfiguring rash, but perhaps its worst feature is the fact that it makes its appearance so early in the life of some unfortunate babies. I have seen it appear the third or fourth week after birth.

I have found the treatment of this rash in babies a most discouraging thing because improvement is so slow, and because the parents themselves so often get discouraged. Sometimes it takes weeks of treatment to show even slight improvement. Then the parents begin to fear that the doctor doesn't know how to treat this rash, and they begin to give friends and relatives a chance to try some old-fashioned home remedies. Of course this just makes it all the harder for the physician to trace the cause of the allergy.

Added to this, mothers, with others in the family, very often haven't time to follow out directions. And not the least problem faced by the physician is the fact that the incorrect use of soap and water during bathing dries out the skin and makes the condition worse.

See Prolonged Congress Battle Over Armaments Program

President's Plan Much Discussed

Party Lines Will Be Cut On Proposition Support It Is Indicated

NATION FAVORS ADEQUATE DEFENSE

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Possibility of a spectacular and prolonged congressional battle over armaments was seen today in the wake of President Roosevelt's ringing proposal for a strong national defense.

Deeply aroused over world affairs, members of congress generally looked forward to detailed recommendations of the administration for expansion of armaments.

A canvass of scores of members disclosed the feeling that congress will support "adequate preparedness" against attack. But should the defense program be so far-reaching that members foresee preparedness for actual war, a furious battle will be waged against it.

Will Cut Party Lines

The issue, if drawn, admittedly will cut across party lines. Republican leaders denied any intention of attempting to make a partisan issue out of increased armaments.

Bitter Republican opponents of the administration, however, charged that President Roosevelt's message yesterday disclosed a trend toward internationalism, the League of Nations policies of Woodrow Wilson and invited the danger of war. Rep. Fish of New York, ranking Republican on the house of foreign affairs committee, charged that Mr. Roosevelt was seeking to create "war hysteria" draw the nation into an international and dangerous "collective security" scheme and to "police the world."

Varied Reaction To Speech By President Before New Congress

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Varied reaction—as expected—greeted President Roosevelt's opening message to the 76th congress Wednesday. While those portions of the message dealing with the troubled international situation and increased national defense met with general approval, a rather wide range of comments were forthcoming about the domestic phases of the message.

Comments follow: House majority leader Rayburn of Texas: "I think the president's message was a masterful setting forth, not only of the state of the union but of world affairs and trends. I think it is a message calculated to be very encouraging to the public in general."

Nothing Constructive

House minority leader Joseph Martin (R) Massachusetts: "I was sorry that there wasn't something constructive offered in the message which would give hope to the 10,000,000 unemployed people."

House minority whip Englebright (R) California: "Very interesting message and I sincerely hope the congress will be soon advised of the administration's plans for helping the unemployed and giving long-needed aid to agriculture."

Senator McNary, Republican senate leader: "It was a revealing message—it sounded like a nominating speech for a third term."

Chairman Norton (D) of the house labor committee: "I think it was one of the best, if not the best message the president ever presented to congress. It was forceful, opportune and important at this time in the affairs of the world."

Rep. Cannon (D) Missouri: "A very strenuous message and it will unquestionably have a very favorable reaction throughout the country."

Senate majority leader Barkley of Kentucky: "One of the most comprehensive messages on the state of the union that has ever been delivered. Sound, in fine tone and will receive national acclaim."

Senator Pepper (D) Florida: "Conciliatory in tone, but determined in purpose."

Different Speech

Senator Bridges (R) New Hampshire: "An interesting speech. A real departure from previous speeches in that no threats or crack-downs were made. I hope the foreign situation is not going to be used to prevent amendment of New Deal legislation."

Senator Russell (D) Georgia: "Rather a strong statement in behalf of national defense."

Senator Minton (D) Indiana: "Stout medicine."

Senator Hatch (D) New Mexico: "A magnificent address."

Senator Ellender (D) Louisiana: "Just what I expected. Nothing new."

Senator Hattie Caraway (D) Arkansas: "A very clever speech and I agree with everything he said."

Senator Holt (D) West Virginia: "It was a very general message. Government expenditures can be cut if needless job-holders are cut off the payroll and there are a lot of them."

Committee Plans For Inauguration

Specials To Leave Here Monday, January 16, For Harrisburg Inaugural

Final plans for Lawrence County participation in the inaugural of Governor Arthur H. James were made Wednesday night, January 4, in The Castle Hotel. The committee met with Chairman Elliott A. Bickett and outlined its plans for the inaugural period.

Special pullmans have been reserved for the local delegation and will leave New Castle at noon Monday January 16. Returning they will leave Harrisburg about 1:30 a. m. the morning after the inaugural.

Canes and badges will be provided for the delegation as it steps into the inaugural parade, and at the head will be banners marking Lawrence County Headquarters in Harrisburg will be designated later. Some of the delegation expressed the desire to attend the inaugural ball and they will be able to do so with the departure time set at 1:30.

This will be the first time in years that Lawrence County has participated in an inaugural parade and County Chairman Rowland hopes the delegation will be worthy of the county.

BESSEMER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The regular assembly period of the Bessemer high school will be held on Friday afternoon at 3 in charge of Mr. Hostettler.

The school board of Bessemer which was regularly scheduled for Monday, January 2, has been postponed until Monday, January 9, in the high school office.

The X-ray examination as the results of tuberculosis tests given recently in the ninth grade will be given in the George Washington junior high school on Thursday.

Bessemer will play the East Brook high school basketball team in a double game in the Bessemer high school gymnasium on Friday evening, January 6, at 7:30. The boys and girls will both play.

Friday, Thirteenth Club Will Gather

Past Commanders Of Local World War Organizations To Meet Next Week

Chairman T. W. McCullough, in charge of the arrangements for the gathering of the Friday, the Thirteenth club, which meets only on Friday, the 13th, is making plans for the gathering which will take place here next week.

The organization is composed of past commanders of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, and now includes 35 members, several of whom reside outside the city. Four of the members of the organization are deceased. William S. Lewis having passed away several months ago. The others are John I. Hopkins, Harry Long and Harry Rosenthal.

Roosevelt's Message Pleasing To France

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, Jan. 5.—Unconcealed satisfaction over President Roosevelt's message to congress, indicating Europe's dictators, was expressed by the French government today.

Unofficial French hopes were expressed that the United States would now be willing to lend active as well as financial support to the European democracies in the event of any possible future conflict with the totalitarian powers.

An official spokesman at the Quai D'Orsay declared: "The French government is deeply impressed by President Roosevelt's speech. It is especially pleased by the strong tone adopted by the president in defense of religion and democracy."

"The speech showed American realization that the dangers facing France and Great Britain also face the world's greatest democracy, since she is on the same planet with us."

Government authorities, it was revealed, are awaiting President Roosevelt's forthcoming defense message in the hope that it will contain still more definite statements regarding the position of the United States in the event, France and Britain are forced into a war this spring.

Air ministry authorities in Paris are worried over President Roosevelt's plan for United States aerial rearmament, fearing the vast scope of this program will close American factories to further French warplane orders.

French newspapers unanimously complimented President Roosevelt on the speech, most of them asserting that the United States is definitely on record as favoring European democracies against Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy.

They also stated that President Roosevelt's message has once again made the United States an active force in world affairs.

TO DISCUSS SOUTH AMERICA NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 5.—William LaVarre, who left Harvard university as a sophomore, equipped an expedition, into the heart of South America, and came out seven months later with over $50,000 worth of gold, diamonds, chicle, medicinal herbs, and even rare butterflies and guppy fish, will talk on "South America" at Westminster College, Friday evening, Jan. 6, in the college chapel at 8:15.

A new low-resistance electrical cable for use in automobiles and airplanes is announced.

VARIOUS PRICES

PAID FOR HOUSES

New buildings built here last year ranged in price from $2,500 upward, according to figures provided by Neil Williams of the city building bureau in the municipal building. The total cost for the structures was $51,700. No houses were built in January, August, October nor December.

As the race of great auks dwindled down to a few hundred birds, museum over the world realized that it was only a matter of time until the bird became extinct, and they offered enormous prices for specimens. This only speeded up the work of extinction.

Plan Arrest Of Rubbish-Tossers Along Creek Edge

Appearance Of Neshannock Creek Embankment Riles Council

POLICE TO WARN PROPERTY-OWNERS

During city council today in the municipal building council agreed wholeheartedly with Mayor Charles E. McGrath that the condition of the western side of the Neshannock Creek is wholly unsightly and that something should be done and done quickly, to prevent dumping of refuse along the river's edge.

And there was something done and indications now point to action and not words; in fact the arrest of any person who throws garbage in that section in the future.

The mayor said he would send a policeman to Neshannock avenue police-owners and warn them against littering the embankments with rubbish, ashes and other unsightly and insanitary materials.

Should anyone be caught breaking the law no leniency will be shown, the mayor asserted. Health Director J. M. Rice agreed with the mayor, likewise all members of council.

The motion to warn the property-owners was submitted by Councilman W. H. Dunlap.

Under a state law pollution of a stream if proved can result in the violator being fined $100.00, it is reported.

Council believes the western side of the creek should be rip-rapped. The eastern embankment is rip-rapped.

Efforts to secure the consent of the property-owners in the past failed, council stated.

against utilities does not arise from the people, but comes from the federal government. Until some clarification of the governmental policy is made the utilities will be hampered.

Restrictive Development "This is unfortunate, for such a lack of clarification hinders developments which the utilities wish to make. In the year 1939 the utilities will spend over $400,000,000 in construction. Chairman McNinch of the federal trade commission said the utilities should spend $1,500,000,000 per year. That would mean the employment of 500,000 people directly and many thousands of others in the purchasing power created by these jobs.

"Unfortunately, the utilities cannot spend such a sum because they are unable to raise additional required capital in sale of junior securities. Money spent by utilities in expansion programs goes about 70 per cent into wages, and the average worker gets about $35 per week. That's the way to get men off the relief rolls and onto the payrolls and it is unfortunate that the government does not change its policies."

Speaking of the operation of the Pennsylvania Power company, a subsidiary of the Commonwealth and Southern, Mr. Willkie said: "The Pennsylvania Power properties are well managed and today we expect to inspect the new power plant which will soon be turning out power at West Pottsville."

With Mr. Willkie are Walter Sammis, vice president of the Commonwealth and Southern; Randall Bourne, comptroller; H. B. Hardwick, assistant comptroller; L. B. Parker, in charge of merchandise sales, and a staff of engineers.

Mr. Willkie is a native of Indiana and during his boyhood days in Ellettsville, Ind., was a close friend of John Hoose, a well-known tin worker of New Castle, who died several years ago, and Mrs. Hoose, who resides on Lincoln avenue.

GIRL SCOUTS

MOLOCHE TROOP 12

Girl Scouts of Troop 12 held a meeting in the Thaddeus Stevens school, Wednesday afternoon. The girls opened the meeting by dancing the Virginia Reel.

During the business period, a roller skating party was planned for Saturday afternoon. One group of girls passed their requirement tests in sports and games.

The dramatic group gave original "flash news" about the Scouts in the troop. Rosemary Hunter read a poem.

TROOP NO. 22

Girl Scouts of Troop 22 held their regular meeting Tuesday in Highland church.

The meeting was opened by the girls going to patrol corners.

Later the girls who have not yet earned their second class badges, wrote in their scout notebooks which they made several weeks ago.

Near the end of the meeting, these games were played: Hand baseball, on land, on sea; black bear.

At the end of the meeting the girls, led by Joyce Alexander, sang songs.

Scribe, Elizabeth Burton.

SENIOR TROOP NO. 1

Senior Troop No. 1 met at 7:30 Wednesday evening in Girl Scout headquarters. The girls enjoyed knitting, crocheting and doing embroidery work. Mrs. Clarence Sadler was present to help with the knitting. The next meeting will be on Wednesday, January 11.

Three Will Go To Their Death In Sing Sing Tonight

(International News Service)

OSISING, N. Y., Jan. 5.—Three men scheduled to become the year's first victims of New York's electric chair in Sing Sing prison were deserted by their bravado today as the hour for their death neared.

The trio, Salvatore Gatti, 28; Charles Sberna, 28, and David Lucas, 29, will begin marching to their deaths at 11 p. m. tonight.

Gatti will bear the futile distinction of being the first client of Samuel Leibowitz ever to be executed.

The film will be shown with the main feature, "Stand Up and Fight," on Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Ten-Billion Day In Congress As Message Is Read

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—This was nearly a ten-billion-dollar day in the capital.

In his regular budget message to congress, President Roosevelt asked for appropriations of $8,995,663,000 to operate the government during the fiscal year beginning in July.

In a special message, the president recommended special appropriation of $875,000,000 to carry on the federal relief program under the WPA for the next six months.

Admits Payment To Have Service Station Burned

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Herbert Cratsley, 42, former postmaster at Imperial, Pa., today admitted payment of $100 to have his Steubenville Pike Service station burned, district attorney Andrew T. Park announced.

Cratsley was returned to Pittsburgh today from New Orleans, La., where he was arrested Monday following the Sugar Bowl football game there.

Widow Awarded Sum Of $109,000

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Mrs. Frances Fleggenheimer, widow of the late Arthur (Dutch Schultz) Fleggenheimer, today had a court order awarding her $109,000, money she claimed her husband invested in a Yonkers brewery.

Bankruptcy Referee Frederick W. Steele authorized the sale of the brewery assets from the proceeds of which the claim is to be paid. Mrs. Fleggenheimer still is fighting in the courts to gain ownership of the brewery in her capacity as administratrix of her husband's estate.

C-I Will Allow Coke Salvage Here

L. H. Burnett, vice president of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Company today granted a request by the city that it be permitted to salvage some coke which was lost by the company some years ago due to flood conditions near the site of the former incinerating plant on the Carnegie Steel mill grounds.

The request to Burnett was made by Councilman Joseph D. Alexander. The coke, he said, can be used by the city.

First U. P. Elders Elect W. J. Brown

The board of elders of First U. P. church, Clenmore boulevard and Albert street, last night elected William J. Brown, prominent in activities of the church, to the board membership left vacant by the death some time ago of John P. Lockhart. Brown is an official of the Carnegie-Illinois tin plant here.

PLAN TO REVAMP SALARY MEASURE

All City Salary Ordinances Will Be Incorporated Into One Measure

City Council plans to hold a huddle some time today or Friday for the purpose of revamping the city's salary ordinances. It is likely that one or possibly two persons now drawing wages from the public will have their salary brought up to the point commensurate with service rendered.

When the heads of the various departments present the employees' name, duties and salary, council will take action to incorporate this information into an update ordinance.

During last year several salaries were changed in supplementary ordinance. Today it was decided to incorporate the acts into one ordinance.

Traffic Light Problem Adjusted

Council Goes Through Formality Of Awarding Contract At Session Today

During council meeting today in city hall council "awarded" to the Koonitz company, Pittsburgh, a contract for traffic lights and equipments at a total bid of $3,023.25.

However, this does not imply the city is purchasing more signals; indeed not. Council only went through the formality of awarding a contract because City Controller S. L. Lockley had held up payment to the Koonitz company for those bought in 1937 and already in operation.

Lockley had decided that inasmuch as, in his mind, the transaction was not legal, because no bids had been asked, he could not honor payment.

Following a conference in city hall council agreed to ask for bids and today made the award. Payment may be made.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath voted negatively. He had consistently asserted that there was nothing wrong legally in buying the lights and agreeing to pay for them the year following.

Martin & Murray also presented a bid. They offered the same number of lights and control equipment for the total amount of $3,108.60.

City Insurance Policy Approved

City Solicitor William Cobau today formally notified the city fathers during their session in city hall that he had approved the Workmen's Compensation insurance policy. The award was given to the firm of McBride & Shannon. Due to a raise in compensation insurance rates, brought about by the last session of the state legislature, the city's average monthly cost will be $760.00, it was reported by Finance Director J. L. Fink recently.

Ambridge High Here Friday In Sectional Game

New Castle Will Try Hard For Second Victory Over Season In League

RESERVES TO PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

New Castle high school "Red Hurricane" basketball team is going to try hard tomorrow night at the Arena court to make it two in a row in their bid for another Section Three championship, when they meet the fast Ambridge high team.

The reserves of both schools will play in the preliminary game at 7:15 o'clock, it was announced by Faculty Manager Norman "Scotts" Nelson today. The gates will open at 6:45 o'clock.

Should Be Good Game Ambridge high, with Narkevic the big star of the battle, handed the Beaver Falls high team a 31 to 26 defeat on Tuesday night at the Ambridge court, and would like to do the same thing to New Castle here on Friday night. Papisodero and Zajakowski are two other star performers in the Ambridge lineup.

New Castle looked rather well on Tuesday night, as they hammered home a 32 to 20 victory over a fast New Brighton high team that couldn't get anywhere through those two swell little New Castle guards, Eddie "Flash" Wenda, and "Man Mountain" Laitro.

It should be a humdinger of a ball game and one of the best of the season here in section three, where seven fine ball clubs are going to battle for the crown now worn by the "Red Hurricane" of New Castle high.

Elwood At Beaver Falls

The Elwood City high team, conquerors of the favored Allegheny high team on the opening night, 32 to 30, will be at Beaver Falls Friday night to try for its second victory in a row. Coach Newton has a great little team in the Wolverines this year and expects to go places.

New Brighton At Butler New Brighton high, topped by New Castle last Tuesday, will go to Butler high on Friday to help the Soap Miners in their section three inaugural. Coach Whitney Slijander is reported to have a crackerjack team at Butler this year and they will be among the leaders all season.

Gersons-Celtics Battle Tonight

The Gersons of the City league will play the Allegheny Celtics at the Falcon hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock. It was announced by Manager Walter Dorch. The Celtics lineup is dotted with several well known former Allegheny High stars.

The Falcons will play the Coraopolis All-Stars in the main game at 8:30 o'clock Friday the Gersons will travel to meet a fast Ohio team at the Christ Mission gym floor. The Gersons will leave New Castle at 9 o'clock for Youngstown.

Coach Dutch Meyer rejects any plan for "national championship" football game between his Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university and the Volunteers of the University of Tennessee.

Snead Only Made $19,534.49 Through Golf Tournaments

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Jan. 5.—Warming up for the first major tournament of the new year today, the nation's pro golfers foresaw a long road ahead to beat the earnings record chalked up by Slamming Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., in 1938.

Snead collected $19,534.49 in purse money from the tournaments of the year just closed, according to records of the Professional Golfers Association. Johnny Revolta of Evanston, Ill., was a poor second with $9,553.33 and Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., was third with $8,050.34.

The $5,000 Los Angeles Open starting tomorrow with a field of 250 for the 72-hole event ushers in a series of four tournaments to be staged in California this month.

Pat Comiskey Is Newest Sensation

New Jersey Boy Is Over Six Feet And Can Hit Harder Than Joe Louis

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Just three little things, said Patrick Edward Comiskey, induced him to enter the ring with its lure of a world's heavyweight championship and the million dollars that goes with it.

Those career-directing items are: (1) The fact that he is Irish and loves to fight (2) a whispered word from Gene Tunney, and (3) a simple sum in arithmetic.

Can Hit Hard Of course, the chances are you never heard of Patrick Edward but take it from the wisest old heads in the fight racket—you'll hear him often in future. Already these old-timers will tell you, he hits harder than any man in the world—yes, harder than Joe Louis—and they're not fooling when they say it.

Pat hails from Paterson, N. J., where he was born 18 years ago. He stands 6 feet 3 1/2 inches in his cox and tips the beam at 198 pounds. From that you gather he's a fine big brother of a boy, but what a man he'll be when he grows up.

Now this will surprise you. Pat has only one ambition in life—to be a champion.

Boosters' Cagers Enjoy Needed Rest

New Castle Boosters Boost Themselves With Startling Victories

After playing four games in five days, the New Castle Boosters will enjoy a much needed rest before taking to the hardwood again.

The Boosters gave themselves quite a boost in district circles by taking the measure of the McKeesport "Big Five" and Geneva College, both decisively. Coach "Fris" Fraser's aggregation is slowly developing into one of the sweetest aggregations in the district. The club still lacks ball handling experience.

The Boosters are building up quite a following. After taking charge of such clubs as McKeesport, Geneva, not to mention Westminster College, Irwin, and a few others, backers of the local ex-high and ex-collegiate teams are increasing by heaps and bounds.

Business Manager Anthony Tino today announced that one of the leading district opponents will appear here Sunday, at The Arena. The Boosters will limber up Friday night with a light workout, Coach Fraser said today.

Titans Shade Carnegie Tech

Tom Patton's Charity Heaves In Final Seconds Bring Victory, 43-41

WESTMINSTER SINKS 19 OUT OF 22 FOULS

(Special To The News)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 5.—Tom Patton's successful conversion of two charity heaves, in the final 45 seconds of play, gave Westminster's Titans a startling 43-41 basketball victory over Carnegie Tech's Plaid Wednesday night, at Pittsburgh.

The battle was one of the most thrilling played here in several years. Tech grabbed a 10-8 lead as activities ended in the first quarter. The Lawrence Couglins swished the leather through the cords for 13 markers in the second canto to take a 21-19 margin at half time. Throughout the last half, the count was deadlocked at 23-23, 30-30, 32-32 and 41-41 with 43 seconds of play left.

The gallery was in state of frenzy throughout the last half as the college put on one of the most exciting games seen on the Plaid hardwood in many seasons. With the count tied, Co-Captain Tom Patton, of West Middlesex, was awarded a pair of Annie Oakleys when a Plaid cager interfered as Patton slid under the hoop. Patton coolly converted both attempts to hand Tech its first setback of the season.

Westminster's exhibition on the foul line was startling. Coach Washabaugh's cagers stepped to the foul mark 22 times, sending the fouls reeling through the net 19 times. Joe Spak, Westminster center, suffered a cut over his left eye, in the opening period. Wilson was high point man for the Titans, getting three two masters and five Annie Oakleys. M. Miller, Spak and Patton each garnered eight points. Combs and Tumpance cashed in with 27 points between them for the Plaid.

Saturday night, at New Westminster, Westminster battles Slippery Rock's "Rockets."

Galento Offers To Fight Nova

Would Meet Conquerer Of Tommy Farr On Winner-Take-All Basis

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—In one of the boldest challenges since the days when good old John L. was threatening to lick any scound-so in the house, Tony Galento, the well-known beer keg on legs, hereby goes on record as being willing to fight Lou Nova free of charge. He will even pay his own transportation from his Orange, N. J., tavern to the scene of the encounter for the privilege of meeting the young Californian.

Winner Take All All this and more was said today in behalf of Galento by his manager, Mike Jacobs. The specific offer herewith presented by Jacobs for publication with the promise that Galento would go through with it if the match with Nova could be arranged is:

A 10 or 15-round fight at Madison Square Garden or elsewhere in February or March on a winner-take-all basis. If Galento can't win he doesn't want or expect and won't accept a dime. If he does win the one catch in the proposition.

Moreover, Joe Jacobs is ready to discuss the matter with Promoter Mike Jacobs at the latter's convenience. In fact, he already has done what he can toward landing the match by communicating by long distance with Mike at Miami, where the latter currently is hibernating.

FALCONS AWAY FRIDAY Following the Polish Falcon-Coraopolis game at the local floor to-night, the Falcons will start getting ready for a road trip to Pittsburgh to meet the famous Irene Kaufman Settlement house team coached by Ziggy Kahn, former well known assistant coach at New Castle high.

Infielder Lou Chiozza and pitcher Bill Lohman return signed contracts to New York Giants.

Texas Christian Is Through For Year

(International News Service) FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 5.—The horned frogs of Texas Christian University are through with football until next fall.

That was the word today from Coach Dutch Meyer in answer to nibbles about staging a game for the "National Championship" between the Sugar Bowl winners and the Volunteers of Tennessee, victors in Miami's Orange Bowl.

"Let's forget about football for a while," said Meyer. "Anyway, it is time the boys begin to think a little bit about their studies."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Twenty-four years ago New Year's day, Bat Terry, the Canyon street popularite, upset a lot of flistic dope in the midwest when he climbed into the ring with Hal Stewart, an awkward yet solid puncher. If recollection serves correctly the decision differed in the various newspapers there. Stewart was the pre-fight favorite. That was the day when Terry, seeing Ad Wolgast, a former lightweight champion, exclaimed: "I wish you were in that ring tonight; that's all I have to say to you." It applied in the national years prior, when at the peak he helped to pry Terry loose from a bott in Milwaukee. Terry needed the money badly and he never forgot the incident. And don't forget it, the Battler could fight and fight plenty.

The pros are at it again, this time Don Budge and Ellis Vines meeting in tennis in Boston. Budge beat Vines 6-3, 8-6, 6-4, which was his second win. They will play in all 70 matches. They'll appear soon in Pittsburgh.

The New Year having arrived, the usually anticipated has also developed that being baseball players' demands for fatter salary envelopes. For instance, Jimmy Fox, who really is somebody in the national pastime, believes he is one who should fare better at the wage window this year than he did in the twelve months now history. He was the best hitter in the American loop last year and in fact, led in almost every department of the game, so he believes that $40,000 would not be too much to pay him, the most valuable American league player last year.

Johnny Paycheck, which sounds rather monetary, is a lad from Des Moines who once earned his cakes hopping bells in a hotel. These days he is earning his livelihood popping fellow humans. So far he has scored 11 knockouts in 15 fights. His next opponent will be Al Ettore at Des Moines, Monday, January 15.

Texas Christian union has reacted icily to suggestions that T. C. U. play Tennessee for the grid championship in either Atlanta, Baton Rouge, or New Orleans. The bids came on the heels of a reported challenge by T. C. U. to Tennessee. However, the Horned Frogs deny such a challenge was issued.

Take X-Rays Of Dean's Flipper

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—The size of Dizzy Dean's 1938 salary with the Chicago Cubs probably will be determined today when x-ray pictures of his silling right arm are examined by the club doctors.

The big hurler was summoned from Dallas, Tex., for the checkup before his contract was made out. If pronounced fit, he may get an amount somewhere near last year's figure of around $20,000.

TITANS TO PLAY SLIPPERY ROCK

Game Scheduled For New Wilmington Gym On Saturday Night

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Jan. 5.—Hoping to resume a home-court winning stride, which began with an early-season win over Geneva, Westminster's Titans will tackle Slippery Rock's basketball team on the New Wilmington arena Saturday evening, January 7.

Coach Washabaugh's squad, boasting at least ten potential starters, will likely present an opening-whistle lineup composed of Jim Wilson, McKeesport, and Mel Miller, New Brighton, forwards; Stan Wasik, Pittsburgh, center, and Joe Spak, Pittsburgh, and Tom Patton, West Middlesex, guards.

For the second time this year, Titan fans will see the fast-moving offense which features the shooting of Mel Miller, junior varsity forward; the defensive play of Stan Wasik, former Pittsburgh South high star, and the clever pivot-play of Joe Spak, another Washabaugh South high protegee.

With both teams featuring a fast-breaking attack, reserve strength may decide the game, in which Coach Washabaugh hopes to use to good advantage such men as Charles Miller, Johnstown sophomore; Joe Hetra, Penn State transfer student, and Charles Ridl, Irwin freshman.

In order to maintain a record which last year netted 15 wins in 20 starts, the Titans will have to travel at top speed against the Green and White, who last year dropped a close three-point decision to a veteran Blue and White team on the New Wilmington court.

Westminster cagers begin their schedule in earnest next week, when they meet Grove City at home, January 10; Geneva at Beaver Falls, January 12, and Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh, January 14.

Class B Games Friday Evening

Shenango - New Wilmington
Clash Means Supremacy Of Section 20 Race

Headlining Friday's list of Section 20 conflicts is the New Wilmington-Shenango high tussle carded for Shenango floor. One of the biggest crowds of the season is expected to watch the arch-rivals swish nets for the leadership of the section.

In other Class B tussles, Bessemer entertains East Brook and Mt. Jackson invades Wampum. Union enjoys a rest.

Washingtons Win From Valley Five

The Booker T. Washington colored basketball team won from the Brown Bombers of Beaver Falls last night at the Lincoln-Garfield gym floor by the score of 30 to 17, with Thomas and Burrie the stars for the locals. At the half the Bookers led 10 to 5.

Friday night the Washingtons will play the Hub Club of Youngstown at the Lincoln-Garfield floor at 8 o'clock.

SHORT WAY FOREST RADIO
(International News Service)
PENDLETON, Ore.—A short wave radio connected with remote parts of eastern Oregon's Umatilla National Forest has proved effective in combating the dangers of summer fires and winter snows that block forest roads. Rangers and deputies are summoned to a particular scene from any part of the mountain area.

The first seaplane was made by Glenn Curtiss, in 1908. The pontoon attachment, however, was not perfected until 1911.

"FASHIONS FOR MEN"

Two Fast Games At K. P. Court On Card Tonight

There will be two fast basketball contests at the K. Pulaski hall tonight in the Oakland district. In the preliminary battle the K. Pulaski Reserves will meet the First Presbyterians of the New Castle Church League at 7:30 o'clock. The K. Pulaski Big Five coached by Walter Sniezek will meet the Canfield, Ohio All-Stars in the main go at 8:30 o'clock.

MUSTANGS WANT GAMES
Seventh Ward Mustang Athletic club basketball team announced today that they have a few open dates in their schedule and would like to book games with any fast team in the county. Managers call Kenneth Wilson at 2072-W to arrange for games.

Utility Players Sign Contracts

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Jan. 5.—Infielder Lou Chiozza and pitcher Bill Lohrman today returned their signed contracts to the New York Giants. Both received slight increases in salary. Chiozza is expected to fill a utility role and Lohrman may be able to table his regular turn on the mound.

INDIES WIN CLOSE ONE
The Indies basketball team won from the Rochester Comets last night at the Rochester High floor 23 to 21, in the final ten seconds of play. Scoring stars in the game were Santangelo, Fava, Orelli, Burkhardt and Jersey. At the half the locals trailed 15 to 14.

ST. JOSEPH'S WIN
In an extra period affair, the St. Joseph basketball team eked out a 17-16 decision over the Rose Bowl cagers. Onasch led the attack for the winners with Reed getting six markers for the losers.

N. Y. A. SCHEDULES GAME
The N. Y. A. team will travel to Wampum on Friday night to meet the fast Wampum All-Stars at the Opera House court at 8 o'clock. It was announced by Coach John Rubels today.

Tony Galento, the N. B. A.'s No. 1 contender for the heavyweight crown, offers to fight Lou Nova free of charge in order to get a crack at the crown worn by Joe Louis.

Overnight Sports

(International News Service)
Patrick Comiskey, promising young fighter, reveals he was impelled to enter the ring because he is Irish and loves to fight, encouragement from Gene Tunney and to make money.

War Admiral must carry impost of 131 pounds, topping other entries except Seabiscuit, to defend the $50,000 Widener cup at Hialeah Park March 4. Seabiscuit, at 134 pounds, is not expected to compete. X-ray taken of Dizzy Dean's arm to determine if he will be able to take his regular turn on the mound with the Chicago Cubs next season.

REFEREES TO MEET
There will be a meeting of the Lawrence County Referees association at the "Y" tonight at 8 o'clock, it was announced by Jack Mottinger, president of the association.

FROM ME TO YOU
By MESEALL

A famous band leader had as his theme on his program last evening "Philosophy". It was rather amusing to hear him recite the same bit of philosophy that we used in this column last Saturday. Remember what it was all about? Why not dig it up and read it again . . . we all could bear the thought in mind. "I know something good about you."

We were all anxious to have the new year start . . . now that it has started do you feel any different? No doubt you don't and if you do it is because you are tired out from taking inventory, but that will soon be over and not all of us take inventory, so let's do a little thing thinking. We all live in New Castle . . . some from choice and some from necessity . . . but let's all join hands and make this old town hum. We can do it . . . your support and the agencies that are trying to make the town look better and work better will be a good start. So let's make this year a boom year for New Castle. Young men interested . . . inquire about membership in the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

We have been hearing things about the Arlington avenue job . . . we have it from good authority that the contractor is not to take all the blame . . . it seems that an inspector (government job) told the contractor that he was not putting enough water into the mixture . . . so to please the inspector (knower of all things) more water was added to the mixture. Result . . . the watery cement ran on the hill and thus we have the rippling street. Look around today and we see that history repeats when it comes to government inspectors . . . some day all this will be changed . . . we hope.

A young fellow that we really enjoy seeing take an interest in the old town is Preston Flaherty. Yesterday elected as secretary of the Castleton hotel board. Remember folks the Hotel is a New Castle owned concern. Congratulations to his father who was elected President.

Duke Of Windsor Will Not Return To England Without The Duchess

(Editor's Note: In view of erroneous reports circulated in the United States concerning future plans of the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, International News Service today checked with its authoritative but highly confidential sources in London and Paris for a truthful and authentic picture of the situation. The following dispatch is based upon information given by spokesmen who rarely talk to the press but who volunteered this data to "set the world right" in the face of conflicting rumors and reports.)

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1939)

LONDON, Jan. 5.—The Duke of Windsor has set no definite date for visiting England and has no intention of coming without his wife, the former Wallis Warfield of Baltimore.

On the authority of close personal friends and advisers of the Duke and Duchess, International News Service is able emphatically to deny any and all reports to the contrary. In the course of an exhaustive investigation of the actual situation today, this correspondent established that only a few days ago the Duke of Windsor wrote a letter to one of his most trusted friends from Cannes in which he declared he was still hopeful of being able to visit his homeland with his wife some time this year.

He expressed himself as determined, if possible, to make the journey before autumn. But for the moment, he said, he is unable to make any definite plans.

Told Of Preparations
(Editor's Note: In two authoritative dispatches cabled from London in November of last year, International News Service described the preparations being made for a visit to England by the Windsors within the next few months. These dispatches told of hopes for a "compromise" on the Duke's insistent demand that the Duchess be accorded the title of Her Royal Highness.)

One intimate associate of the Duke, who is in almost constant contact with the former king and his wife and who is their chief source of information regarding sentiment and conditions in England, dealt with the situation with a frankness prompted by repeated publication of totally unfounded rumors and reports.

"His Royal Highness," this informant said, "is most distressed by publication of these reports, which are having the effect of doing him a disservice."

Situation Unchanged
"The situation remains unchanged since last year. All stories to the contrary are absolute speculation to keep the pot boiling and are not founded on a single known fact."

"On the basis of his known hope as expressed repeatedly in his own letters, it is strictly accurate to say: 'Firstly, that the original possibility of the Duke and Duchess coming to England this year still holds good, and

"Secondly, that when he comes he will be accompanied by his wife."

"The Duke and Duchess will travel in a dignified fashion, as befits a man returning to a native land which owes him so much."

"While both are keenly anticipating the visit they have long looked forward to, they have made no plans which could enable anyone to say that a definite date has been settled upon."

Court Circles Indignant
Official court circles were outspokenly indignant over attempts to "sensationalize" the possibility of the visit, especially efforts to involve the health of Queen Mother Mary. In this connection, spokesmen were openly critical of one story alleging the Duke was planning to fly to England without his Duchess within a few days because of concern over his mother's "heart trouble."

It was pointed out as a matter of actual fact for a woman approaching 72, the Queen Mother is in unusually good health. Under strenuous advice, she has curtailed activities somewhat, cutting down on the ceaseless round of dedications and bazaar-openings that so long characterized her life. But she still appears frequently at official functions and is anything but the "invalid" that the reports pictured her.

Police Skeptical Of Story Told By Would-Be-Suicide

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 5.—Frankly skeptical of Mrs. Marjorie Montgomery's tale that she drowned her two children, Barbara, 3, and Marilyn, 2, by jumping into San Francisco Bay with a girl under each arm, police nevertheless continued dragging the waters Wednesday as the 27-year-old mother clung to her story.

"Barbara, the oldest girl, hung back but Marilyn trusted me. I kissed them and took them in my arms. Then I jumped," Mrs. Montgomery told police.

"I held them as long as I could but my arms were tired and I saw them float away from me. I wanted to die too, but I was too strong a swimmer."

Mrs. Montgomery was picked up by a police boat.

Tall Girls To Get Call For Hollywood Choruses

By MILTON HARKER
(Copyright, 1939)
(International News Service)
HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 5.—How tall is a tall girl?

"This question can be posed fairly now that Jack Crosby, Samuel Goldwyn's dance director, has added his voice to the swelling refrain that small girls are doomed in Hollywood chorus lines and that he has selected 'some fairly taller girls' for a dancing background in 'Wuthering Heights.'"

In this formal declaration he is adding the majesty of his voice to Albertina Rasch of M-G-M, Seymour Felix of 20th Century-Fox, Hermes Pan of RKO, Leroy Prinz of Paramount and others who know a knotty knee from knotty plie.

Your bashful correspondent has eschewed an opportunity to measure Mr. Crosby's forty femmes with a ruler, but, eye to eye, he is willing to take a pauper's oath there isn't a single one of them over five feet, seven.

Is that tall?

Two years ago, come last June, the aforementioned Mr. Prinz, over a brace of vanilla sodas in a cafe in New York's Times Square, informed this reporter, without the flicker of his famous smile, that two years hence would see Hollywood chorus lines both as a lady under six feet. It is conceded on all sides that cameras dwarf distances and sizes and that six-foot cuties would come out on the screen very cute and demure indeed.

The fact remains, however, that 31 months have passed since Prinz's fateful prognostication and this correspondent has yet to see a single, solitary six-foot chorus girl.

To be extremely truthful, the only six-foot girls this reporter has seen in Hollywood, by and large, would fit better into any picture holding up the frazzled ends of clotheslines than in twinkling cubanamer toes on the silver screen.

In all his life, this correspondent has seen only one very beautiful girl over the six-foot mark and that was not in Hollywood. It was in Newport, Cal., 53 miles, as the crow flies, to the southwest. She came into the sunlight near the railway station wearing a sunsuit. It fitted her long sleek lines to perfection, but it would have looked like a tent on Helaine Moler, of Richmond, Va., the classiest of all the class in the chorus line of the twice aforementioned Mr. Prinz. On a straight line, from head to toe Helaine is a mere five foot, three; although if you followed all the curves between the same two points you might stretch it out to six feet.

COTERIA CLUB
The Coteria club, formerly the T. M. M. club members gathered at the home of Mrs. John Davidson on Wednesday morning and enjoyed a delicious luncheon dinner when the hostess shared the honor of a birthday with Mrs. Will Groce. Both birthday guests were honored with remembrances from the club.

There were 15 members and three visitors in attendance, being Mrs. Glenn Stanley, Miss Freda Benson and Miss Eva Johnson.

After the dinner, a business meeting in charge of the president was mainly the election of new officers which resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Dora Connor vice president, Mrs. Will Groce, and secretary, Mrs. Nellie Houk. After the finishing of old business an exchange of gifts was held and the meeting was given over to open discussion.

BESSEMER NOTES
Harry Shoup, student at Westminster college, was called to Erie, Pa., as donor of blood for a necessary transfusion to Mrs. George Melbourne.

TO SPEAK OF ARABIA
(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—Clarence W. Sorenson, official photographer to the crown prince of Sweden and associate editor of Globe Magazine, will speak in the Westminster chapel Tuesday morning, January 10, at 10:30 on "Caravan Trails in Arabia."

Dr. Galbreath Will Speak In East

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 5.—President R. F. Galbreath of Westminster college leaves Saturday, Jan. 7, for a two-week speaking tour of light uppers, and change shoes in New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, and Eastern Pennsylvania on the subject "The Program of the Church as it relates to the College."

Dr. Galbreath will appear in leading United Presbyterian churches of Brooklyn, N. Y., Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, and Boston.

Experts say that folk who do office or other work that does not need protection for the upper part of the foot, should wear shoes with Jan. 7, for a two-week speaking tour of light uppers, and change shoes often.

Best Cough Remedy Is Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get the quickest imaginable relief from coughs due to colds, mix your own remedy at home. Once tried, you'll never be without it in your home, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Then get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex from any drugist. This is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacoli, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.
